First, they were a huge hit in England. Now, they've flown across the pond and taken America by storm. And it's all because of their attitude. Made from Bamboo root and hand carved, each one is a unique character with its own name and personality, so no two DCUKS are exactly alike.

Natural Finish and Stained DCUKs

Finished with 3 coats of polyurethane, these DCUKs are happy to be either indoors, bonding with the family or outside, enjoying the garden. They'll weather a bit outdoors, but that only adds to their personality. If you want to keep your DCUK outside, they'll periodically need a coat of exterior varnish or furniture oil (take special care with the joints, feet and legs). The stained DCUKs have a beautiful finish and look quite sharp. They come in five colors: red, green, black, gray and dark brown. Hand carved teak DCUK eggs are also available, either in the natural finish or in the stained finishes.
