Back by popular demand - Woodstock Chimes Re-Introduces Remo Kids Drums to Its Ever-Popular Woodstock Music Collection®

Woodstock Chimes, a worldwide leader in the manufacture of premium musical gifts, re-introduces the Remo Kids Drums to its award-winning Woodstock Music Collection®. This collection features an eclectic assortment of nearly 100 musical instruments, offering instruments for children of all ages that are not only fun, but also easy to play.

“I’m really excited about re-introducing these wonderful award-winning Remo Kids Drums,” says Woodstock CEO Garry Kvistad. “Having spent the majority of my life immersed in music, I always look for new ways to use my experience to bring music into children’s lives, so we continue to add to the Woodstock Music Collection to provide variety and inspiration. These new drums are great sounding, extremely durable... and they look great too!”

Bongo drums are an important part of the Afro-Cuban family of rhythm instruments. The Kids Bongo Drums feature two drum heads, which produce two pitches. For the ‘musician-on-the move,’ the Kids Konga Drum comes equipped with a shoulder strap, allowing children to play this Konga either standing or sitting. By drumming with different parts of the hand, children will find themselves surrounded by a variety of tones produced by the Konga Drum. Children can place the Kids Tom Tom Drum on the floor and let their imaginations soar.

All of the Kids Remo Drums feature a fabric covering of vibrant colors and lively rainforest design. Remo is the most famous drum maker in the world. These truly are the best drums available for young players.
