WINDS OF CHANGE: NEW EVOLUTIONS™ COLLECTION FROM WOODSTOCK PERCUSSION TO DEBUT DURING WINTER 2006 MARKETS

SHOKAN, NY (OCTOBER 15, 2005) -- Woodstock Percussion will launch a new series of chime, bell and other designs that capture the wind to create interesting visual effects ,shape shifts and soothing sounds. Titled Woodstock Evolutions™, the new collection will be shown during the winter 2006 Gift and Home Markets in Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago, New York and other parts of the country.

From creative wind catchers to resonant bell designs in a host of colors and materials, the new Woodstock Evolutions collection includes:

Surface (style # WRS) — With a smiling sun motif at its center, this design is sure to warm up any garden environment. As the wind blows, copper plated steel designs revolve around the sun's center for dramatic effect. Measuring 12", the Surface has a suggested retail of $17.99.

Alpha Octagon (style #WRAO) – Octagonal shapes revolve around the key focal point, which also shifts in the wind, reflecting the curves and shape of the Greek letter alpha. The chrome plating finish catches the sun for added visual impact. Measuring 8", this design retails for $14.99.

Beta Chime –Large (style #WRBL) – The round rings on this chime's wind catcher revolve as the wind blows, calling to mind the Greek letter beta. Made from aluminum, steel and wood, the chime features nine ¼" silver anodized rods and a black wood top. Measuring 21.5" in length, the Beta Chime has a suggested retail of $19.99.

Omega Rings – (style #WROR) -- Concentric steel circles slowly revolve around the intricate center. As the center design also turns, it takes its inspiration from the Greek letter omega. This elegant design features a chrome plating finish and measures 12" in length. Suggested retail – $19.99.

Bell Rings – (style #WRBR) -- The copper plated finish on the steel circles catches the sun's light to create varying degrees of texture and tone as the rings revolve around the bell in the soft breeze. Complementing the visual, the bell's soft sounds are sure to please. 12" long, this design has a suggested retail of $19.99.

Founded by music pioneers Garry and Diane Kvistad, Woodstock markets more than 100 different products in its Signature™ and Encore® Collections. In addition to its Environments line of garden accessories featuring the popular Dcuks collection, Woodstock's other home and garden offerings include hand-tuned chimes, bells, gongs and musical fountains.
