

Woodstock Chimes®

A Note on Chime Production

March 22, 2008

Woodstock Percussion products are designed in New York, as they have been for almost 30 years. Woodstock Chimes are now made in a large modern factory near Shanghai, in central China. The working conditions are excellent, the facility is clean and organized and the employees are paid fair wages and treated with dignity and respect. This factory regularly produces garden products for several large customers and as such, periodically undergoes rigorous compliance reviews of quality control, payroll, safety and working conditions and safe environmental practices. It is a wonderful facility, one that would be the envy of manufacturers anywhere.

I personally visit our China factory four or five times a year and I confirm that all Woodstock Chimes are of high quality, made with safe materials and produced with integrity by our manufacturing partners.

Sincerely,

Stacey A. Bowers

Executive Vice President